Dear BPS Families,

September always feels like a new beginning - and this year is no exception. After the past year of remote and hybrid learning, and years of difficult budgets, we begin the 2021-2022 school year eager to define the future of our district.

There is so much to look forward to this school year. We will be launching innovative new programs to aide in getting students back up to speed and close the achievement gap. As a result of the implementation of our policy of 1-1 student laptop distribution, all students will be afforded the opportunity to acquire and improve their critical technology skills. Lastly, we will spend the fall writing the new Brockton Public Schools Strategic Plan that will serve as a blueprint for building a better school district.

You are a part of our school community during a time of great change and I truly believe there is no better time than now to be a BPS kid. I look forward to watching your children grow and thrive during their time with us.

Sincerely,

Michael P. Thomas
Superintendent of Schools
